A message from the Chief Academic Officer

We have chosen “Unleashing Potential” as our theme for graduation from Nexford University this year. Every one of us has potential, and we believe that by completing your degree, you have started the process of unleashing your potential.

Unleashing potential means taking risks, facing your fears, and pushing past your comfort zone. But when you do, you unleash your full potential and discover what you can achieve. The road to pursuing your dreams may not always be smooth, and you may face obstacles, setbacks, and failures along the way. However, with every step you take, you are unleashing your potential.

An individual's potential is the accomplishments they can contribute to their family, country, society, and the world. Human Potential is realized and fulfilled through successfully completing projects or achievements in the real world.

Your potential does not have a ceiling unless you stop being a contributor. Others cannot unlock a person's potential directly, but by allowing them to stretch and move, they can unleash it themselves. At Nexford, we are always trying to raise the bar and challenge our learners to produce more, learn more, and continue on their pathway of unleashing their own potential.

Great leaders provide challenging opportunities because they understand that giving someone a good challenge that comes with an actual stretch allows them to develop and unlock their potential. They set a high bar and support those working to reach it.

I celebrate your success with you and your family and am proud of each of you for completing one of the steps toward your goal for the future!

Best wishes,
Cathy Plunkett Ed.D
Chief Academic Officer
Nexford University

A LOOK BACK

They say that life is not just about thinking ahead, but also taking the time to look back. Now that the hard work is done, it's time to stop and smell the roses and reflect on all of the fun times that were sandwiched between the late nights and weekends spent toiling away at the computer.

Enjoy the trip down memory lane!

A message from our Director of Career Innovation

Dear Nexford graduates,

You did it! All the time you put into investing in yourself has paid off and graduation is here. As you prepare to close this chapter and spread your wings – remember a few things. First, stay in touch! Like we always write, your success is ours and we want to continue to cheer on your achievements even after graduation. Second, continue to invest in your community and network – both for your own growth and for that of those around you.

Reach out to those more senior than you in your field to learn from their experience and also reach out a hand to those who are still growing in your industry to help them along the way.

Finally, celebrate! From this achievement to your next success – make time to reflect on your efforts and appreciate all that you have accomplished. We can't wait to see the great things you'll continue to do!

Warmly,

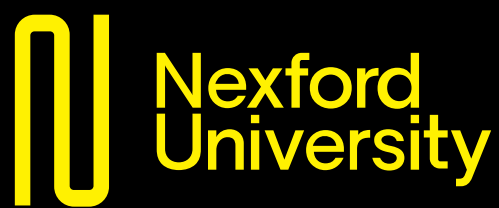

Dr. Jennifer Bangoura

Studying an MBA with Nexford University and specializing in Enabling E-commerce helped me to land my job with Bumpa, leading the sales and partnerships team. Bumpa enables e-commerce and social commerce for retail merchants, it's exciting to implement the skills I learnt at Nexford university which has also driven me to also start a business in partnerships.
